

27th INTERNATIONAL TEACHING WEEK

Faculty of Physical Culture
Palacký University
Olomouc

13th – 17th April 2026

Rovshan Karimov

Khazar University,

AZERBAIJAN

Rovshan is currently a lecturer at Khazar University. He specializes in human geography. Teaching is the main activity he has been involved in. In the last twenty five years, he has been teaching and lecturing in about 15 universities, colleges and schools. Rovshan has been lecturing various courses such as economic and social geography, population geography, world economy, ecotourism, sustainable tourism, hospitality management and many others. He has been involved in various projects and initiatives on population, human migration, climate adaptation, urbanization, conservation of biodiversity, cultural heritage, etc. He promotes green activities and healthy lifestyle.

In his free time Rovshan reads books, plays sports, listens to music, walks in nature and visits national parks. He is a big football fan and since his childhood he has been watching national and international football championships.

Rovshan's Topics for the 27th International Teaching Week:

- Environmental and Climate Factors of Human Migrations
- Climate Action: Mitigation and Adaptation Efforts